1. SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION IN 2015

The Federation of Jewish Communities in the Czech Republic (FJC) in 2015 recorded a total of 221 anti-Semitic incidents. This number is slightly lower than the result for the year 2014, when there were 234 anti-Semitic incidents, so the total number of anti-Semitic incidents did not significantly change. It is likely that many cases of anti-Semitic motive remained unreported and that the number of such incidents may actually be much higher than that given in the Report.

More than one half of incidents in 2014 occurred during the military operation Protective Edge, which took place in Israel and the Gaza Strip in the period between July and September. This operation was a trigger for anti-Semitic incidents. The year 2015 brought similar numbers. However, the result cannot be attributed only to one event as in 2014. The distribution of incidents, compared with 2014, was relatively even (see Chapter 2). Only in summer there was a slight decrease mainly in the category of articles, images and videos on the Internet.

The nature of incidents remains more or less similar to previous years. They were recorded anti-Semitic letters and e-mails, verbal attacks, harassment near Jewish objects, desecration and vandalism. These data may differ from other institutions (Ministry of Interior - MI, Policy of the Czech Republic - PCR) which consider manifestations of anti-Semitism only acts constituting a criminal offense. The Federation evaluates offenses under the working definition of anti-Semitism as defined by the FRA (see Chapter 3).

Anti-Semitic hateful manifestations on the Internet constitute 82 % of all recorded incidents. It is thus the most common type of incident. In 2014 there was an increase of posts of the new anti-Semitism. The trend continued also in 2015, when some posts responded to the aftermath of the military operation Protective edge in summer 2014. Another part focused on the wave of violence in Israel in the fall 2015. Some other anti-Semitic reactions were evoked by the visit of Israeli President Rivlin or by Jerusalem Days Festival. The most common theme was blaming Israel's policy of apartheid and genocide.

Traditionally, most anti-Semitic posts appear on the sites of the extreme right and anti-liberal websites, which was the same case in 2015 too. The main topics as in previous years included Holocaust denial and conspiracy theories concerning Jewish domination and influence. Especially the conspiracy theories, mainly inspired by the immigration crisis, and terrorist attacks that occurred in 2015 in Europe, can trigger an increase in xenophobia and polarization of the Czech society. They are nurtured and misused by the extreme right-wing and anti-liberal groups in their own favor. Part of their anti-Islam and anti-immigration rhetoric is also created by anti-Semitic aspects propagated in large on the Internet.

In 2015, the Federation also registered a rise in the number of newly issued anti-Semitic books and pamphlets as The Protocols of Zion and Lectures on the Holocaust. Books are available on the websites of the extreme right-wing groups. In two cases they were distributed directly at demonstrations of the National Democracy¹ against Islam.

However, in comparison to other countries in Central and Western Europe the Czech Republic still remains a safe country for the Jewish community. The public has rather neutral relation to the Jewish community.² Anti-Semitic manifestations, as demonstrated by this Report, are in most cases limited to the Internet.

3. INTRODUCTION

THE PURPOSE OF THE REPORT ON ANTI – SEMITISM IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC IN 2015

The annual report on anti-Semitism in 2015 (the Report) has been prepared by the Federation of Jewish Communities (FJC) for internal needs of Jewish communities in the Czech Republic (CR), but also for the needs of other institutions processing the data on anti-Semitism. The Report aims to provide a comprehensive image of anti-Semitism and social climate related to anti-Semitism. The Report brings not only the data from the last year, but also compares recorded manifestations of anti-Semitism with the developments in previous years.

METHODOLOGY AND TERMINOLOGY

The Report consists of several parts. The first one is information on recorded anti-Semitic incidents and their comparison with previous years. The FJC considers such an act as anti-Semitic incident that is directed against persons with Jewish self-identification, members of the Jewish community, Jewish property, for which it is clear that the incident has anti-Semitic motivation or the victim of the incident was intentionally selected for his/her Jewishness, even if it was (from the offender's point of view) alleged one. Anti-Semitic incidents can take various forms: attacks on property, physical or verbal attacks. More detailed is categorization of individual anti-Semitic incidents written or physical articles described in the character categories of anti-Semitic incidents. All incidents and manifestations described as anti-Semitic and listed below meet the definition of anti-Semitism.

The Report contains only a general list of anti-Semitic incidents and texts. To protect victims and their security the details of incidents, which could enable identification, are intentionally omitted.

c.

The data used in the annual report come from several sources: from those who have become subjects to anti-Semitic incidents, from Czech Jewish organizations and communities, from published documents and analyzes of other organizations and state institutions, from open sources - both from the mainstream media and the websites of monitored organizations. The FJC monitors anti-Semitic incidents using the available data, so it is probable that most incidents were not announced either to the FJC or to the Police so they are not noticed³ in the Report. All evaluations included in the Report are based on the collected data.

³Např. FRA Antisemitism Update 2004-2014

DEFINITION OF ANTI-SEMITISM

This Report is determined by the working definition of anti-Semitism processed in 2004 by the European Union Monitoring Centre on Racism and Xenophobia (EUMC) and published on the website of the successor of the EUMC⁴ the European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights - Fundamental Rights Agency (FRA). The same procedure is also used by the Coordinating Forum for Combating Anti-Semitism (CFCA)⁵, which the Federation cooperates with. The FRA removed the working definition of its website in 2013, but the Report continues to follow it in the same way as the CFCA does.

According to this definition, anti-Semitism can be considered „a certain perception of Jews, which may be expressed as hatred toward Jews. Rhetorical and physical manifestations of anti-Semitism may be directed toward Jewish and non-Jewish individuals or their property, toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities. In addition, such manifestations could also target the State of Israel – they have the anti-Semitic nature if the State of Israel is conceived as a representative of a Jewish collectivity as it is given further in the specification of the FRA (see also „3D“ test). Anti-Semitism frequently charges Jews with conspiring to harm humanity, and it is often used to blame Jews from the current problems. Anti-Semitism appears in the spoken word, in writing, visual as well as in other activities, taking advantage of the vicious stereotypes and negative character traits supposedly Jews.“

FRA definition also specifies various concrete manifestations of anti-Semitism: „Today’s anti-Semitism in public life, the media, schools, workplaces and religious circles, after taking into account the overall context CAN acquire eg. the following forms:

1. Calling for, aiding or justifying the killing of Jews or serious harm of Jews in the name of a radical ideology or an extremist view of religion;
2. Making mendacious, dehumanizing, demonizing allegations, announcements about individual Jews or Jews as a collective power based on stereotypes. Particularly, but not exclusively, the myth about a world Jewish conspiracy or Jews controlling the media, economy, government or other social institutions;
3. Accusing Jews as a people being responsible for real or imagined wrongdoing committed by a single Jewish person or a group of Jews or even non-Jews;
4. Denying the fact, scope, mechanisms (eg. Gas chambers) or intentionality of the genocide of Jews by German Nazis and their supporters and allies during WW2 (the Holocaust);
5. Accusing Jews as a people and the State of Israel, of inventing or exaggerating the Holocaust;
6. Accusing Jewish citizens of being more loyal to the State of Israel or to prefer the alleged priorities of Jews worldwide to the interests of their own nations.

⁴European Union Agency for Fundamental

⁵ RightsCFCA is an internet forum, which collects information on anti-Semitic incidents from various sources around the world. Forum members are, among others: the Israeli Ministry of Education, Sochnut - The Jewish Agency, The Community Security Trust (CST) in the United Kingdom, Vidal Sasson Institute at Hebrew University in Jerusalem and Stephen Roth Institute at Tel Aviv University.

Examples of anti-Semitic manifestations related to the State of Israel taking into account the overall context could include eg .:

1. Denying rights of the Jewish people to self-determination, eg. by claiming that the existence of the State of Israel is a racist endeavor;
2. Applying double standards by requiring a behavior not expected or demanded of any other state;
3. Using symbols and images associated with classic antisemitism (eg. accusing Jews of killing Jesus or ritual murders) to characterize Israel or Israelis;
4. Comparing Israeli policy to that of Nazi;
5. Holding Jews being collectively responsible for actions of the State of Israel.

Other criticism of Israel, similar to that leveled against any other country, can not be regarded as anti-Semitic.

3D test

In determining manifestations of the so-called new anti-Semitism which greatly concerns illegitimate criticism of Israel, and to a clearer distinction of the legitimate criticism of Israel from the new anti-Semitism, the FJC uses so-called 3D test, whose author is Natan Sharansky. According to this test, such a statement containing at least one of the so-called 3D, is regarded as anti-Semitic.

The first D stands for demonization of Israel - labeling Israel as embodied evil, aggression. An example might be comparing Israel's policy to that of Nazi Germany or the Palestinian refugee camps to concentration camps and , etc.

Sharansky describes the second D as a double standard, which is selectively applied to the State of Israel in assessing its foreign policy and internal affairs. This is particularly the case of the United Nations where Israel is often a target of many condemnation statements and resolutions, while other, often undemocratic, authoritarian and totalitarian states, are not obliged to face adequate criticism and they even act very often as an arbitrator towards the State of Israel.

The third D stands for delegitimation of the State of Israel. As antisemitic can be evaluated such statements that deny the right of the State of Israel to its existence.

4. TRENDS IN 2015

Response to the refugee crisis

A strong theme of the year 2015 was the situation arising in connection with the refugee crisis, which brought an increase in the number of demonstrations organized by extremist right-wing groups and focused against refugees and Islam. The issue of refugees and Islam also became the main topics on the websites and social networking profiles of many extreme right-wing groups such as the National Democratic Party headed by Adam B. Bartos or the Workers' Social Justice Party headed by Tomas Vandas.

Topics related to Islam and Muslims, that make the largest percentage of refugees, succeeded to attract to the demonstrations a wide range of people - from right-wing extremists to ordinary citizens -, whose fear of the unknown was skillfully abused by the extremists. The anti-Islamic trend was also supported by the terrorist attacks in Paris in January and November 2015, and by the debate about mandatory quotas on the admission of refugees to individual EU Member States. Anti-Islamic attitudes also gave passage to anti-Semitic manifestations in the form of conspiracy theories, which began to proliferate mainly in connection with the migration crisis. The theory of the Islamization of Europe from the part of Jews in order to weaken Europe and dominate it already appeared in the past. However, due to mismanagement to inform and address the challenges associated with the refugee crisis rationally and constructively by the Czech political elite, this idea began to spread particularly in posts on the Internet. Leitmotifs of these theories are particularly by Jews organized arrival of refugees to Europe and the subsequent destruction of Europe, its values and its gradual domination. A frequent theme is also the creation of so-called Islamic State (ISIS) by the State of Israel resp. Jews as a tool that should help to gain worldwide domination. Right-wing extremists put into context terrorist attacks in Paris, which should have been, according to them, organized from Israel to discredit Islam.

Publishing activities

Compared with other years it was issued the increased number of books with anti-Semitic content in 2015. They were mainly issued by ABB⁶ and Guidemedia⁷ publishing houses etc. These are reprints of old and new translations of anti-Semitic books and new texts. Its content is focused on Holocaust denial (Germar Rudolf: Lectures on the Holocaust) and conspiracy theories (Protocols of Zion). Publishing these books is risky for the potential increase in anti-Semitic tendencies in the society for three reasons. First, readers receive the books either completely without accompanying words which would explain emergence and origin of the text and historical context, or on the contrary, as it is in the case of a new translation of the Protocols of Zion, the books are accompanied by a preface that ignores false origin of the text. In the case of the book Lectures on the Holocaust, it is purely a pseudo relativization of the Holocaust. Publishers spread hateful texts seeking to influence readers and add credibility to their anti-Semitic attitudes as it happened in the case of the book What have our greats said about Jews. Another risk is a financial income that extremists get from their publishing activities and which they can finance the activities of extremist organizations with. A third risk is advertising books and selling them through the Internet, especially social networks. The possibility to order the books via Internet makes it easy to get the offer to a broader range of readers and to provide them anonymity.

Facebook, December 14, 2015

⁶Publishing house ABB is associated with Adam B. Bartos: <https://abbartos.wordpress.com/knihy/>.

⁷Publisher Pavel Kamas from Guidemedia etc. featured translations of Nazi texts. Due to the edition of Hitler's speeches the publisher was accused of genocide approval. The appellate court finally in 2015 acknowledged the publisher innocent. Kamas in 2015 participated along with Adam B. Bartos and other pilgrims in the pilgrimage to the tomb of Anežka Hrůzová. <http://guidemedia.cz/>.

Cyberspace

In 2015, the trend to change the website for social networks and blogs went on. Disseminating anti-Semitic posts and articles directly on social networks is more efficient and faster. They may get to a broader range of readers who would not otherwise visit the normal website. In the same time social networks provide still sufficient feeling of security and elusiveness to disseminators of anti-Semitic and other hateful manifestations. In 2015, the social network Facebook discovered a community called „We do not want Jews in the Czech Republic.“ Though Facebook removed the page soon after reporting, it is highly likely that there are much more such groups on Facebook and other social networks. However, since social networks provide many tools to help maintain anonymity or confidentiality for its users, it may be very challenging to discover them.

Boycott

Specific chapter was a reaction to last year's third festival of the Days of Jerusalem. It was perhaps the first attempt of public cultural boycott in the country. ISM organization published several open letters and petitions⁸ which requested cancel the festival on the grounds that it was a political campaign to promote Israel's illegal annexation of Jerusalem despite the fact that the Days of Jerusalem presented both Jewish and Palestinian artists.

5. CATEGORIES OF ANTI-SEMITIC INCIDENTS

This chapter Categories of anti-Semitic Incidents contains various types of anti-Semitic acts categorized for the purpose of further processing of the available data. Each category contains a brief description and types of incidents that fall into it:

I. Physical attacks on people and property

Physical attack on a person - any attack on a person, which leads to injury, or attack on such a person, which aims to bodily harm, even if the object of the attack escapes or bodily injury does not occur, though it was intended.

Attack on Jewish property, or property that is perceived as connected with Jews, not intended to make bodily harm - incidents in which it is clear that they were committed with the anti-Semitic motivation to symbolically invalidate the property with anti-Semitic inscriptions, symbols etc. It is for example: the destruction of Jewish cemeteries, memorials, painting Nazi symbols on Jewish buildings etc.

Incidents in 2015:

Physical attacks on people and property with anti-Semitic motive remained at the same level as in previous years. In 2015, there was a total of five such incidents. Compared to 2014, there was no physical attack on a person. All five incidents were physical attacks on property. In 2014, it was also registered five attacks on property (for the exact list, see Chapter 7).

In 2015, in this category there were the following incidents:

January Prague, Lauder Schools: unknown offender drew a swastika to a dustbin belonging to Lauder schools an.

20/1/2015 Czech Krumlov, cemetery building in the Jewish cemetery: unknown offender damaged the names of Holocaust victims at the cemetery wall in the room. He painted satanic symbols on the names.

29/3/2015 Terezín, Holocaust Memorial: 24 year old man urinated and hailed in the Terezin Memorial Holocaust.

April 2015 Prague, Jerusalem Synagogue: Unknown offender stuck on the notice board of the Jerusalem Synagogue promotional material of the extreme right-wing organization the Prague Nationalists.

5/4/2015 Svitavy, Oskar Schindler memorial: Unknown offender sprayed the monument of Oskar Schindler. On the memorial were drawn swastikas and slurs.

II. THREATS AND HARASSMENT

This category of anti-Semitic incidents include any written or verbal threats against the Jewish community or individuals from among the Jews and those who are regarded as Jews (personal, telephone, e-mail or post).

Such a statement or written text, that threatens a specific person by an act of violence because of her/his Jewishness (also alleged one) is considered threatening. If the statement is not clearly expressed or addressed to a specific person, the incident is registered in the category of harassment.

Any verbal, written or personal manifestation of hatred towards Jews or those who are considered to be Jews that is not addressed to a specific person (or a specific group of people) is considered harassment. Harassment unlike threatening does not contain the threat of further violence. Anti-Semitic graffiti also fall into this category.

Incidents in 2015:

In the category of threatening there was a significant decrease compared to 2014. In 2015 we registered only three incidents. Compared to 9 incidents in 2014 it meant three fold reduction. In the category of harassment in this year did not occurred any dramatical change. In 2015 there were 31 incidents, the highest result in this category since 2008. So the annual increase was less than 11 percent. A total of 27 from 34 registered incidents in the category of physical attacks, threats and harassment took place in Prague or aimed to the Jewish Community in Prague (harassing or threatening emails). (For the exact list, see Chapter 7.)

Into this category fall in 2015 for instance these incidents:

1/2/2015 Prague, New Jewish Cemetery: 8-9 men, including the right-wing extremist Petr Kalinovsky appeared at the New Jewish Cemetery in Olšany. The men asked the doorman about the editor office of monthly Rosh Chodesh and when it is open. The men were carrying cameras, with which they were taking photos of the cemetery. In connection with that incident came a harassing email by Peter Kalinovsky to the the Jewish Prague community in Prague 3/2/2015.

31/3/2015 Polná, grave of Anežka Hružová: members of the extreme-right National Democracy Adam Bartoš and Ladislav Zemánek along with Pavel Kamas and Erik Sedláček⁹ visited the grave of Anežka Hružová, to which they hanged the following text: „At this place during Easter 1899 an innocent girl Anežka Hružová was brutally murdered. Her death put the Czech nation together and it insistently showed the necessity of solving the Jewish question. The Jewish question has not been resolved satisfactorily yet. On behalf of the National Democracy Adam B. Bartoš and Ladislav Zemánek 31/3/2015.“¹⁰

⁹Pavel Kamas is a publisher of the Nazi and anti-Semitic literature (Guidemedia etc). Erik Sedláček is a former head of the neo-Nazi National Resistance who contributed to the racist and anti-Semitic magazine Last generation. In 2012, he tried to organize a procession through Josefov on the anniversary of Kristallnacht.

¹⁰Adam Bartoš and Ladislav Zemánek were non-finally sentenced for the text in March 2016.

11/4/2015 Prague Generali Arena, during the match of football teams AC Sparta Praha and SK Slavia Praha Sparta fans chanted: „Jude SLAVIE.“¹¹

10/7/2015 Prague, member of the JCP was insulted because of his Jewish origin. She was told, for example, that: „All the Jews who survived the war, should be exterminated in the gas chambers.“

31/7/2015 threatening email for JCP:

III. Anti-Semitic articles, images and videos on the Internet

Articles and other texts containing expressions that can be evaluated as anti-Semitism according to the above definition.

The final number of recorded anti-Semitic texts is probably distorted due to the possibility of placing them on closed servers, etc.

Incidents in 2015:

In 2015 it was registered 184 anti-Semitic articles, images or videos, making up 82 percent of all recorded incidents. The most frequent topics were conspiracy theories, new anti-Semitism as illegitimate criticism of Israel by right-wing and left-wing extremists and Holocaust denial. A total of 41 percent of all recorded articles, images and videos formed a conspiracy theory. 34 percent of posts fell under the category of the new anti-Semitism. 10 percent consisted of topics concerning Holocaust denial and 8 percent racial anti-Semitism. Another category includes posts dealing with anti-Judaism and the combination of the previous topics. This category forms the remaining 7 percent of registered posts.

Articles in the category of conspiracy theories in connection with the refugee crisis, were largely focused on blaming Jews for organizing this wave to destroy European culture (see Chapter 4). Posts directed against the State of Israel were affected by the aftermath of the military operation in Gaza in 2014. They also focused on the economic and cultural boycott of Israel. Articles with the theme of Holocaust denial traditionally rejected the existence of gas chambers and the total number of Holocaust victims. The theme of the Holocaust as a tool of the Jews to achieve their own goals has been a frequent practice.
